How are you going to do this collaboration? How will you use the award money? (max 300 words).

In this section you are requested to provide a detailed planning of your collaboration with the host institution (e.g. planned collaborative activities, timeline, involvement of stakeholders, potential collaborators or general audience and means to liaise with each of them) will be helpful to evaluate the effectiveness of your collaboration. A Gantt chart will have to be uploaded. Potential activities might include presentation to a research group or PhD students; Preparations for a joint research proposal; Joint data collection or data sharing; Use of new methods, methodology available at the host institution, or research infrastructure; Preparations for a joint publication in an open access journal (no hybrid); Preparations for a joint teaching activity or co-tutelle agreement etc. Please indicate in this section also how you will use the grant in a way that it will support your collaboration.

- Please note that this section can be evaluated as: Excellent (5) Very good (4) Good (3) Average (2) Poor (1).

What are the expected outcomes of this collaboration? (max 300 words).

In this section you are requested to provide a description of the expected short-term outcomes of your collaboration is required (presentation of the collaborative activities you plan to carry out thanks to the YERUN scheme), as well as of the potential of significant medium-term outcomes of the collaboration for you and the partner institutions involved (identification of future joint activities that could build on this initial YERUN collaboration). Moreover, you are requested to describe the benefits of the collaboration for your professional development, and both for your home and host institution.

- Please note that this section can be evaluated as: Excellent (5) Very good (4) Good (3) Average (2) Poor (1).

What are further impacts or potential benefits that your collaboration could lead to? (max 300 words).

In this section you are requested to provide considerations about potential academic, social, economic and/or other impacts on society. The relevance of your collaboration to improve impacts on society will also be valued, as well as forms of communication towards the wider public rather than peers only (i.e. videos, blogs, etc.) allowing wider stakeholder engagement and preparation of the ground for beneficial impact of the collaboration to be realised. Important: a reference to the SDGs your research contributes would be appreciated.

- Please note that this section can be evaluated as: Excellent (5) Very good (4) Good (3) Average (2) Poor (1).

Check if this your research collaboration is interdisciplinary (please note that half extra point is given if the collaboration between the researcher and the host team is new. You have 150 characters available to explain the interdisciplinarity of your research. If connections to the YERUN priorities are possible, you are invited to indicate them here as well).

Check if this is a first collaboration between the two research teams (please note that one extra point is given if the collaboration between the researcher and the host team is new).

Check if this collaboration is related to a researcher or researcher's team who has received a YRMA in previous editions (Please note that half point is given if the collaboration is with a researcher who has visited the home institution of the applicant via previous YRMA calls).

Check if you are receiving additional funding for this collaboration (Your answer will not impact the evaluation of the application).

Check the format of your collaboration. (Your answer will not impact the evaluation of the application).
